It lies in the Aswan governorate, and is located in the Eastern Desert. Description The area is located in the heart of the Eastern Desert, part of the Nubian region, and contains the distinct geological formation called Tefyat Min, or Teffyat tafta. Teffyat Min is also known as 'Dih-Uwekt, the Tuwekt being a name formerly applied to the southern part of the region. The area is in a desert that was formerly called the 'Suwaïra' or 'Suweira' (camel's back). This was a name in use by Greek geographers for the whole of Upper Egypt, and by Ptolemy.
